The Louisville Commercial calls attention to the fact that GOEBEL, CAMPBELL & Co., who have taken charge of the Goebel murder case, are sending out bulletins as to what they propose doing at Georgetown. Is it not about time for representatives of the Commonwealth to assert themselves, or have they surrendered control of the case to the Ohio-New York-Arizona mob which thrills for Republican blood, guilty or innocent?

KENTUCKY FLASHES.

CAN ANNEX ISLANDS.

Gen. Grosvenor, of Ohio, Addresses the Kentucky Chautauqua Assembly.

Lexington, Ky., July 5.—One of the largest holiday crowds ever known in the history of the Chautauqua assembly visited Woodbury Park Wednesday. Trains from all the surrounding towns brought in large excursions, and practically all of Central Kentucky celebrated the glorious Fourth in Lexington. Mrs. Maud Ballington Booth spoke on "Our Prisoners."

In the afternoon Gen. Charles H. Grosvenor, of Ohio, spoke on the "Problems of the Republic." The auditorium was packed. He introduced his remarks with a brief argument to the effect that the history of the nations, when closely studied, shows that the great results accomplished by national movements have been unexpected. He illustrated this with references to the revolutionary war, the war of the states and the Spanish-American war, with Cuba as a text.

He followed with an enumeration of precedents showing that the United States had acquired territory by treaty of war and by other possible methods, that the United States had received into the union and given the full privileges of statehood and its citizens the full privileges of citizenship only when they were competent and ready to receive it. He applied these precedents to the situation in the Philippines and drew the conclusion that the United States, if they could be annexed and held indefinitely as other territories had been held, as territories until they were capable of receiving full citizenship.

Gen. Grosvenor in the beginning read from prepared manuscript, but after reading the opening sentences he rarely consulted the typewritten manuscript before him.

At 4 o'clock the Daughters of the Revolution were given charge of the auditorium. The day was celebrated by the reading of the declaration of independence, the singing of the national hymn by the entire audience of several thousand people and an address by former Gov. W. O. Bradley, who was patriotic in its nature and did not touch on political topics.

BLOWN ATOMS ALL MASSACRED.

Five Men Instantly Killed By the Explosion of a Burning Oil Tank.

ANOTHER VICTIM HAS SINCE DIED

Over Fifty Men, Women and Children Injured, a Number of Them Probably Fatally.

One of the Most Disastrous Accidents in the History of the Ohio River Railroad Occurred at Parkersburg, W. Va.

Parkersburg, W. Va., July 5.—The most disastrous accident in the history of the Ohio River railroad occurred near the shops of that road at 7:31 o'clock Wednesday morning. The terrible loss of life and injury to persons was caused by the explosion of a burning car which had contained 6,000 gallons of oil. About 3:35 o'clock a switch on which the oil car and several other cars had been placed was left open and the south-bound freight No. 35 ran into the open switch and set fire to the car. The front end of the engine knocked in the end of the tank, from which the oil caught fire. The oil burned slowly, as the hole was only a small one, and at 7 o'clock it was still burning. The officials who met their untimely death a few minutes later were near the car superintending the removal of the wreckage and the clearing of the tank, when suddenly the whole tank exploded. Gas had formed in the inside of the big tank, and when the fire reached it there was a terrific explosion. The larger portion of the tank was blown about 100 yards down the track. The dome of the car was blown nearly 200 yards.

At the time the explosion occurred there were 100 or more persons standing around in close proximity of the burning car, watching the flames and the work of clearing the track. Many of the crowd who were standing near the car when it blew up were deluged with the falling oil, but were not seriously injured. The officials and workmen of the road who were killed were blown down the track nearly 50 yards and must have been instantly killed by the terrible force of the explosion. They were standing right where the explosion occurred and received the full force of it. Of the men who were killed it was blown out into the cornfield and it was some time before their bodies were found. The killed were all carefully buried. Their death was evidently from the force of the explosion and not from the burning oil, although some of them showed evidence of having been burned. Small fragments of human bodies were picked up around the scene of the explosion and some charred fragments of bodies, which had evidently been blown off and then burned.

The dead are:
J. H. Hamilton, general superintendent of the Ohio River railroad.
E. La Lime, master mechanic.
Chas. Mohler, yard master.
G. O. Shannon, known as "Dick," extra train dispatcher.
Bradley Reeves, freight brakeman.
Geo. Chalk, a freeman, died about noon at St. Luke's hospital.
Those most seriously injured are:
Jim Ruth, freeman, will die.
Will Carr, jr., engineer.
P. H. Dickson, freeman.
John Ruth, freeman.
Chas. Smith, freeman.
J. C. Cheuvront, yard engineer.
J. J. Stafford, night yard master.
Jim Rayland, day yard conductor.
E. D. Kelley, yard brakeman.
Geo. Huff, freeman.
Geo. Coleman, roundhouse foreman.
E. T. Hull, roundhouse foreman.
Geo. Bradford, freeman, hands and face injured.
About 40 others, men, women and children, were slightly injured, some burned, some hurt by the explosion.

The coroner's jury, which was impaneled by Coroner Keever at 10 o'clock, found the following verdict: "The death of the before mentioned parties was caused by the explosion of an oil tank in the yards of the Ohio River Railroad Co., about 7:30 o'clock, July 4, 1900. Said tank supposed to contain refined oil shipped from the Standard Oil Co. of this city. We further find that the said oil tank was set on fire by the engine of a freight train, No. 35, which was colliding with north end of said tank, on the main track of said railroad. We further find that the accident was caused by the night yard crew being asleep while on duty."

The legation was finally burned and all the foreigners were killed. It is reported that Kwandou and the dowager empress have been poisoned.

London, July 5.—"Not a single foreigner is now alive in Peking," is the latest Chinese report which has reached Shanghai. Earlier reports from the Chinese customs staff and a number of women and children) held out till after their ammunition was exhausted in the British legation. The legation was finally burned and all the foreigners were killed. It is reported that Kwandou and the dowager empress have been poisoned.

It is understood that Shanghai undoubtedly referred to the native city of Tien-Tsin, from which the Chinese were driven. The foreigners, including 40 soldiers, 100 members of the Chinese customs staff and a number of women and children) held out till after their ammunition was exhausted in the British legation. The legation was finally burned and all the foreigners were killed. It is reported that Kwandou and the dowager empress have been poisoned.

EMPEROR SUICIDES.
The Emperor Dowager Also Took Poison But Is Yet Alive Though Injured.
Shanghai, July 5.—The emperor committed suicide under compulsion of Prince Tuan, July 19. The emperor dowager also took poison, but is yet alive, though reported insane from the effects of the poison. This was officially reported to the German consul.

FIREWORKS EXPLODED.
Four Children Killed, Three Fatally Injured and About Twenty Others Hurt.
Philadelphia, Pa., July 5.—A blank cartridge fired at close range by a small colored boy into a large collection of fireworks of a highly explosive character cost the lives of four children, the probable death of three others and severe burns to 20 others, only two of whom were adults.

The deceased, Carmel Grango, aged 11 years; Charles Bryant, aged 11, and two unidentified children. Those who will probably die are: James E. Bites, aged 9 years; Jennie Dianno, aged 8, and Frank Nacitro, aged 9 years. The explosion occurred in front of a small shop on Eighth street in the most thickly populated district. The fireworks were on a stand on the pavement and consisted largely of giant firecrackers, torpedoes, rockets and chasers. A crowd of children was clustered about the stand. The colored boy, Isaiah Harris, pointed the pistol in the direction of the fireworks and fired. The force of the explosion which followed shattered the windows of many stores and residences in the vicinity. The scene was covered by a dense smoke. When this lifted the forms of more than a score of children were found lying on the street, burned and bleeding. The owners of the fireworks were arrested.

NOMINATION.

The Expected Did Not Take Place at the Democratic National Convention.

COMPLETION OF PLATFORM AWAITED

Great Demonstrations Made Over the Names of Bryan and David B. Hill, of New York.

The Vice Presidency is as Much in Doubt as Ever, but Adlai Stevenson Now Seem to Be the Favorite.

Kansas City, Mo., July 5.—Amid scenes of tumultuous enthusiasm befitting such an event and such a day, the democratic national convention began its session. But after sitting until a late hour at night the expected climax of the day—the nomination of William J. Bryan as the democratic candidate for president—has failed of realization, and all of the larger business of the convention awaits the completion of the platform.

As a spectacular event, however, the convention has fulfilled the hopes of the most fervid party men, for the vast assemblage of delegates and spectators has twice been swept with whirlwind demonstrations, first for the leader who is about to be placed in nomination, and then for that other champion of democracy, David B. Hill.

COL. WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN.
The following persons were present: John L. McLean, chairman of the convention, and the other members of the executive committee.

Hill, but in actual accomplishment the day's work is confined to organization and living. Following is a list of the delegates: John L. McLean, chairman of the convention, and the other members of the executive committee.

COOMASSIE EVACUATED.
Governor of Ashanti and Several of His Ministers Fled Through the Besieged Lines.
London, July 5.—A telegram has been received at the colonial office from Col. Willcocks, dated Fumso, July 3, saying native messengers from Bekki who have arrived at Bekwai announce that the governor of Ashanti, Sir Frederick Mitchell Hodgson, with several officers and their wives and families, have left Coomassie and arrived at Ekwaru, 20 miles south-east of Coomassie, and were proceeding through Denkers on their way to the Cape Coast. The messengers add that many were killed in the breaking up of Coomassie.

The rumor appears to be well founded, although Col. Willcocks does not say whether he has received news from the governor. The colonel intends to proceed to Coomassie and take the place if it has been evacuated.

Recovering the Dead Bodies.
New York, July 5.—One hundred and twenty-six bodies have been recovered from the waters of the North river, victims of the disaster at the North German Lloyd steamship docks. There are yet over 125 persons missing.

APPALLING ACCIDENT.

Thirty-Six Persons Are Crushed to Death and Over Fifty Others Badly Hurt.

Tacoma, Wash., July 5.—Nearly a hundred people, passengers on a street car bound for this city, were plunged down a gulch at 26th and C streets shortly after 9 o'clock Wednesday morning. Those who were standing on the platform dropped off, only to be bruised and wounded by the heavy body of the coach, while others in the car were killed and maimed before they knew what had happened. The car jumped the track and was immediately smashed to kindling wood in the bottom of the chasm, over 100 feet below. The dead will number nearly three score, for there are many of the injured who will never recover, and who are expected to die at any moment, and there are at least 60 of the passengers of the car now in the hospitals and other places under the care of their own physicians.

It was one of the most appalling accidents that had ever occurred in this city, and it came at a time when it was least expected. Residents of the nearby towns—Edison, Lakewood, Parkland, Lake Park and other places—were coming to Tacoma to spend the Fourth. Their journey was nearly at an end when they met death in horrible form. Crushed, maimed and mangled, the unfortunate were dragged from beneath the wreck of the car and tender hands ministered to them until conveyances could be had to carry them to hospitals and to the homes of their friends. The dead were piled on the grass, but there were few in the crowd of spectators and passengers who gathered at the scene at that time who knew who was dead and living. Following is a list of the dead: John L. McLean, chairman of the convention, and the other members of the executive committee.

EXTREME HEAT IN CHICAGO.

Eight Persons Dead, Several Driven Crazy and Four Prostrated as a Result.

Chicago, July 5.—Christina Johnson, a domestic employed at a residence on Sheffield avenue, became crazed by the excessive heat and attempted to burn herself to death. She saturated her clothing with kerosene and applied the match. As the flames enveloped her she ran shrieking through the house, crying out that she was hot and wanted to die. She was restrained with difficulty and the fire extinguished, but she had suffered severe burns, which necessitated her removal to the hospital, where she continued to rave in her delirium.

Geo. Smith, a painter, suddenly rendered crazy by the heat, while walking along the lake front with his wife and child, attempted to throw them into the water. A spectator felled Smith with a club. Smith was taken into custody.

The thermometer registered 90 degrees steadily throughout the day, with scarcely a breeze to afford the slightest relief. Eight deaths and four prostrations were reported. The dead are: Frank Barnes, found dead in a cell at police station.
Anton Mrozek, laborer, died in his home.
Tony Ratkey, overcome while fishing, fell into Lake Calumet and was drowned.
Julius Abel, 6 months old, committed suicide by jumping in front of a train.
Wm. Ruchl, a prominent brewer. Mrs. Shuknecht.
Robert Wynnes.

The following persons were prostrated: Christ Kuntz, A. M. M. Westope, Harry Bloche and Philip Klume.
